Arrests not answer to heroin problem, say officials

By JOSH SHEPHERD, NEWS WRITER
It was an unintended consequence, but state laws that made it more difficult to abuse prescription pain medication and crystal meth was one of the factors that fed an epidemic rise in heroin abuse across Kentucky in the last five years.

This was but one of the alarming statistics repeated several times at the annual community meeting sponsored by Champions for a Drug Free Harrison County Monday night.

The community room at the Cynthiana Christian Church was at full capacity for the evening, a clear illustration of the public concern over the incidence of heroin addiction and overdoses in the county.

Harrison County Sheriff Shain Stephens and Mark Burden, a detective with the Kentucky State Police drug enforcement division, presented a number of statistics pertinent to Harrison County and Kentucky:

- From November 2013 to November 2014, there have been seven confirmed deaths due to a drug overdose in Harrison County.
- From August to October 2014, Harrison County Emergency Services has responded to 24 reports of drug overdose.

- In that same time period, Harrison Memorial Hospital has responded to 185 overdose incidents. The HMH report noted that the overdose incidents in their report involved all drugs, not just heroin. The statistic underscores the continuing challenges the county faces with prescription medication and other narcotics addiction, Stephens pointed out.

“Even before I considered running for Sheriff, I have had concerns about our local drug problem,” Stephens said. “I have reached out to the city and state police about ways we can work together to improve the situation.”

In a slide show presentation, Burden showed statistics compiled by the state Office of Drug Control Policy illustrating the increase in heroin-related overdose deaths across Kentucky.

From 2008 to 2012, overdose deaths related to heroin went from an estimated 73 to just under 800 — and indications are that numbers for 2013 and 14 will exceed those, Burden said.

The rise in heroin abuse is clearly connected to legislation that made it more difficult for drug users to obtain prescription drugs, Burden said.

Earlier in the Champions meeting, state Rep. Tom McKee echoed this same fact. While House Bill 1 succeeded in curbing so-called pill mills and suspect pain control clinics, McKee said, drug dealers and addicts turned to heroin because it’s cheaper and less controlled.

“We are working to craft legislation in 2015 to address the heroin abuse problem in Kentucky,” McKee said.

Kentucky State Police Det. Mark Burden and Harrison County Sheriff Shain Stephens update the community on heroin drug abuse in Harrison and surrounding counties at a town forum on Monday night.

He invited those at the meeting to share their ideas and input with his office.

But in the meantime, the current problem persists. And it is a problem that will require more than just law enforcement to solve, Burden said.

“Communities cannot arrest their way out of this problem,” Burden said. “Addicts need treatment. Suppliers and dealers, however, need to go to prison.”

City commissioner and former Commonwealth’s Attorney Jack Keith said that a community must demonstrate that they won’t tolerate drug dealing in their community.

As an example, he said that Pendleton County experienced an unwelcome spike in their drug See DRUGS, page 5

Suspect uses box cutter to rob Dollar Store

By BECKY BARNES, EDITOR

Police are again searching for a man wearing a dark hooded sweatshirt who snagged money that did not belong to him.

Cynthiana Police Ptl. Nathan Linville said that on Sunday night, Nov. 16, about 9 p.m., a white man walked into the Family Dollar Store on West Pleasant Street and demanded money.

Two women were counting the cash before the store closed and had it out on the counter.

“The guy came in and said ‘gimme all your money’ and when they laughed at him, he showed a box cutter, came over the counter and grabbed the money,” Linville said.

The man, who was wearing a sweat shirt turned inside out and dark jeans, fled the store in a dark-colored passenger car.

This robbery follows three others in the city in recent weeks.

Other incidents being investigated by the Cynthiana Police Department, include a 7 p.m. robbery at Ken’s gas station on Oct. 19, where the suspect entered the store wielding a knife and again demanding money; a Sept. 30 robbery at Fast Maxx on U.S. 27 South; and an Oct. 4 robbery at First Stop on West Pleasant Street.

In descriptions of the suspects at each robbery, he was wearing a hooded sweatshirt. On three occasions, the “hoodie” was dark blue or black. At First Stop, the suspect was dressed in a red hooded sweatshirt with a black jacket over top of the hoodie.

A Cynthiana Police spokesman said recently that each of the incidents are being investigated separately for possible links.

Anyone with information is encouraged to contact the police department at 234-7100.

Police have security video taken from the Ken’s robbery, Fast Maxx and First Stop.

Hospice volunteers make lasting impression on families

By JOSH SHEPHERD, NEWS WRITER

Though Hospice involves a team of professionals skilled in all aspects of palliative care, those who make the greatest impact on families and caregivers are often the dozens of their dedicated volunteers, said Kelly Kendall, Coordinator of Volunteer Services at the Cynthiana branch of Hospice of the Bluegrass.

The office gets frequent calls with compliments about the local volunteers who donate their time to transport patients to the doctor’s office or grocery store, provide light housekeeping chores, mow the lawn, help with needed home repair, or just take the time to visit a while with patients or caregivers and just talk.

It is often the volunteers who form some the strongest bonds with patients and their family members, she said.

“In many cases, when calling to request a service, families ask for a specific volunteer. If they’ve forgotten the name, especially early on, they’ll try and

SANDERS

Western Kentucky University's Jackson Sanders, a sophomore from Cynthiana, was tournament champion in persuasive speaking and sixth in dramatic interpretation at the Bowling Green State University tournament the weekend of Nov. 15-16. He was also tournament champion in individual sweepstakes, tournament champion in communication analysis, tournament champion in persuasive speaking, tournament champion in dramatic interpretation and fifth in impromptu speaking at the Firelands tournament.

Sanders is the son of Jay and Laura Sanders of Cynthiana.

The Harrison County High School speech team took third place out of 15 schools at the Beechwood Invitational Tournament on Nov. 15. The team's next competition will be the Boone County Tournament on Dec. 6. HCHS participating competitors and individual awards: Jared Thomas, first in extemporaneous speaking; second in impromptu speaking; Jacob Sanders, first in broadcasting, second in duo interpretation; Ross Smith, first in impromptu speaking; Marie Bowen, second in broadcasting, second in duo interpretation, fourth in impromptu speaking; Wylie Caudill, third in duo interpretation, seventh in improvisational duo; Alycia Schuam, third in duo interpretation, seventh in improvisational duo; Katie Stein, fourth in poetry, fifth in broadcasting, seventh in prose; Amber Schools and Andrea Hernandez.

National FFA scholarship awarded to local student

The National FFA Organization awarded a $1,000 Tractor Supply - Growing Scholars scholarship to Kelsey Lainhart of the Harrison County High School-FFA. The scholarship is sponsored by Tractor Supply - Growing Scholars as a special project of the National FFA Foundation. Lainhart plans to use the funds to pursue a degree at Eastern Kentucky University (KY).

The scholarship is one of 1,786 awarded through the National FFA Organization's scholarship program this year.

For 30 years, scholarships have been made available through funding secured by the National FFA Foundation. This funding comes from individuals, businesses and corporate sponsors to encourage excellence and enable students to pursue their educational goals.

The scholarship recipients were selected from 6,315 applicants from across the country. Selections were based on the applicant's leadership, academic record, FFA and other school and community activities, supervised agricultural or work experience in agricultural education and future goals.

Cynthiana-native Lt. Timothy W. Adams, center, received his promotion certificate on Nov. 10 from Secretary of Justice and Public Safety J. Michael Brown, left, and Kentucky State Police Commissioner Rodney Brewer. An 11-year veteran of the agency, Adams is assigned to KSP Post 3 in Bowling Green. A 1992 graduate of Harrison County High School and a 1996 graduate of Eastern Kentucky University, he is the son of Travis and Linda Adams of Cynthiana.

Christmas Angel Tree ready for adoptions

By BECKY BARNES, Editor

Christmas morning for 452 Harrison County children will be brighter this year due to the adoption of Christmas Angels.

For over 20 years, the Christmas Angel program has operated through the Family Resource/Youth Service Centers.

According to Vicki Faulkner, this year's Angel Tree is laden with more adoptable children than she remembers.

"Last year there were 412," she said.

School-age children, who otherwise wouldn't have a Christmas, from pre-K to 12th grade, may fill out a wish list. That list is to purchase gifts that will be given to the angel's family as a Christmas morning surprise.

"You don't have to buy everything on the list," Faulkner said. "There are no stipulations on that."

However, they do ask that gifts not exceed $50. No cell phones or iPads.

The 452 angels are ready to adopt. They may be picked up at the Youth Service Center at the corner of Webster Avenue and Church Street during regular school hours.

Entire families can also be adopted by groups or individuals.

The gifts must be back at the center by Dec. 5. Pickup dates for parents are Dec. 16, 17 and 18.

Faulkner added that parents may be notified earlier if their child's gifts are turned in early.

"I'm sure they have more room to store them at home than we will have here," Faulkner said.

She said the younger children are the first to go off the tree. People seem to think that older children are more difficult to buy for.

However, Faulkner said they request gifts such as MP3 players, jewelry, art supplies, xBox360 games, coats, boots, warm clothing and hoodies.

She said sometimes shoppers can get a good buy on bicycles and still meet the $50 cap.

She said the stories behind some of the people who adopt are heartwarming.

One gentleman adopted an entire family this year. He will purchase gifts for the children and parents as well as provide food for a Christmas meal.

"He said he wanted to shop for a family after his wife died," Faulkner said. "He wanted to spend what he would usually spend on her."

Also, the Harrison County Area Technology Center students selected 40 angels.

Churches and civic groups may select angels to display at their churches for adoption.

A doctor's office will be donating various items to use as fill-ins for angels whose gifts needed a little something extra.

Also, boxes will be placed at Farmers Deposit Bank downtown and Southside branches. Donations will be accepted at these locations for those who want to help, but can't take on an angel's entire list.

"Be creative in your giving," Faulkner said, noting that one donor gave horse riding lessons to her angel because she wanted anything to do with horses.

Anyone interested in adopting an angel can stop by the Youth Services office adjacent to the high school.

For more information, call Faulkner or any of the Family Resource Center/Youth Services staff at 234-7160.

Correction

A headline in last week's Cynthiana Democrat may have been misleading.

Former Blue Grass Energy director Larry Willis died at 7:38 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 9, while a patient at Morgan County Appalachian Regional Healthcare, according to a spokesperson for the Kentucky Department of Corrections.

describe the person.

"There's been a lot of times I've had requests for 'the tall, lanky guy with the nice smile' and most of the time, it's this guy," Kendall said, indicating Jim Ammerman.

Ammerman, a retired employee of Bundy Tubing, has been proud to serve as a Hospice volunteer since December 2006. He is among a core group of people who readily donate their time to help families through the most emotionally and physically challenging periods in their lives.

He is glad to share his experiences, but his work as a volunteer doesn't register on him as anything unusual or extraordinary. In fact, quite the opposite, he feels honored that families would welcome him into their homes and share their lives with him at such a critical period.

"I'm retired, so I have the time and I saw that there was a need for my help with Hospice. It's what being a human being is supposed to be all about - helping others when you can,"

Ammerman said.

Kendall said that Ammerman is among a group of volunteers whom she can rely on for helping Hospice patients with day-to-day living. These services included a wide range of activities.

If a patient is unable to go out, volunteers are glad to make home deliveries, whether that be a trip to the store or to a local restaurant to pick up lunches and dinners.

But the greatest value that Ammerman, and volunteers like him, provide is simply their presence, Kendall said.

"Those of us who have been the family caregiver know that the responsibility can get overwhelming. It causes the greatest amount of stress at this period in people's lives. Our volunteers can provide them a much needed break and help ease the stress," Kendall said.

Ammerman enjoys the time. It's been his privilege, he said, to sit and visit with people for upwards of two to four hours sometimes.

In the course of his seven years of service, so far, he has held the hands of patients as they made the transition to the next life, he said. He recalls when he was able to provide that service to his own brother.

"My brother and I were very close. When it came his time, he was unable to speak.

But we held hands all the way through the moment that he passed away. I was so glad that I was able to be there," Ammerman said.

Families who have contact with our volunteers become an adopted member of the family, Kendall said.

But the kind of personal services Ammerman provides are not the only ways volunteers can fulfill critical needs to hospice patients.

"Volunteers contribute in a whole range of ways," Kendall said.

On her list of over 90 volunteers are hairdressers and stylists who donate their services to patients. A massage therapist volunteers to provide patients and caregivers with stress-relieving Reiki massages if they need it, Kendall said.

Volunteers can help with special events or holiday decorations, she added.

Being a Hospice volunteer does not always mean making home visits to patients. They are available for people who feel called to provide that service, but there are plenty of ways for people to contribute their time without making such an emotional investment as well, Kendall said.

She points to piles of cloth and stuffing that occupy a corner of her office.

"I have plenty of bears that need to be stuffed and sewn for some of our patients. I could use help putting those things together," Kendall said.

In addition to professional services, there is also pet therapy, care calls to check up on families and there are loads of things that students from the high school and middle school could contribute as well.

Boy and Girl Scouts have often earned their required volunteer hours through Hospice, Kendall said.

"As an agency that receives Medicare, we are required to have at least five percent of our services come from volunteers. It's a point of some pride that our volunteers often log as much as 150 to 350 hours," she said.

But for volunteers like Ammerman, it's not about counting the hours or even remembering to keep track of his gas mileage, for which he is entitled to reimbursement.

He often forgets to make that claim, Kendall said.

"I get my reward from the personal satisfaction of being with these families. In all these years, I have never once felt put upon or inconvenienced. I just feel privileged and humbled," he said.

Fiscal court vote on Handy House questioned; timing in poor taste

By CHRIS STARR, GUEST COLUMNIST

The Harrison County Heritage Council (HCHC), a duly formed non-profit under IRS Section 501(C)(3), would like to express its extreme disappointment in the Veterans Day vote taken by six members of the Harrison County Fiscal Court.

It is our understanding, that with the urging of Magistrate Frank Henson, the vote to demolish Ridgeway (aka The Handy House) was moved upon citing two reasons: safety/security and lack of action by our organization.

The HCHC questions the validity of these two reasons as stated below.

The last time that the HCHC stood in front of the fiscal court was on July 22 when a 23-page business plan outlining the restoration of the house was submitted.

This business plan was requested by the city and county governing bodies prior to any vote being taken regarding the request of a transfer of the lease of the property to the HCHC.

The business plan contemplated a profit sharing arrangement that would provide the city/county its share of the $50,000 per year in projected net cash flow generated from the renovated property.

The plan was well received by city and county officials, but the fiscal court moved that any vote regarding the house be tabled until the federal paperwork establishing IRS 501(c)(3) status be approved for the HCHC.

It was then remarked that the matter and the negotiation around the lease would continue at that point.

It should be no surprise to the fiscal court that the IRS approval took over three months to be received by the HCHC.

At the July 22 city council meeting, Mayor Steve Moses warned everyone that this process could take up to nine months due to a backup in federal cases.

His comment was related to the fiscal court at the July 22 hearing.

However, our organization pushed this forward under a rush request to get back to a vote as soon as possible, clearly cognizant of the time issue at hand.

On Nov. 7, the IRS approval was received by our president, Marilynn Bell, at which time, she began inquiring about the best possible time for the HCHC to appear before both governments to discuss a vote.

Four days later, without contacting the HCHC, the fiscal court voted to demolish the house.

We would also like to remind the fiscal court, that in the hearings on July 22 the city commissioners and the fiscal court directed us to take no further action on the property until the vote was taken. They did ask that the back door be secured, which we performed promptly after the hearings.

Since we were not permitted to take further security action regarding the safety/access of the property, the security/safety responsibility rested solely on the shoulders of the city/county officials and the park board.

We would also like to note that the security concerns surrounding other areas in the park are even more pressing than Ridgeway. One of those issues is the rubble that exists in the park after fire and barn removal.

Our organization had no legal permission to address said safety/security concerns, with the sole exception of securing the back door.

After working with the city and county in good faith and after fulfilling the requested requirements needed prior to awarding us the lease to restore the property, it is disappointing that the fiscal court would take up a vote without notifying us of this action, and just days after we received the required paperwork from the IRS.

We would also like to express our strong disapproval at the chosen date of this vote.

To choose Veterans' Day to vote to demolish the home of a War of 1812 Veteran and Congressman (Col. William Brown), that sits in the middle of Flat Run Veterans' Park, is in extremely poor taste and a slap to the memory of Cynthiana's veterans, both past and present.

We urge the Harrison County Fiscal Court to reconsider its vote on this matter.

As we indicated during our presentation, the HCHC would be interested in entering into a percentage lease or similar mechanism for the city and county to share in the future cash flow from the renovated property.

The HCHC feels that it is the fiscal court's fiduciary responsibility to reverse its position on this matter and not throw away the opportunity to receive upwards of $50,000 per year in its revenue share on the property.

We kindly request that the fiscal court rescinds its previous vote and allows us to move forward with the renovation plan that we requested in late July.

Lastly, we are deeply concerned about the fiscal court's compliance to state and federal historic preservation laws and regulations; particularly, those in 36 CFR Part 800.

We request the fiscal court's written documentation and evidence of due process on their compliance to the aforementioned regulations and the Section 106 review pursuant to the National Historic Preservation Act, as this matter pertains to a federally recognized historic property.

Editor's note: Chris Starr is a member of board of directors for the Harrison County Heritage Council and is a Massachusetts real estate developer.

Mailbag

Swimming more important than historic significance?

To the editor:

On Veterans' Day, the Harrison County Fiscal Court chose to 'honor' the memory of one of its most prominent veterans by voting to demolish his residence, Ridgeway (aka The Handy House), just three years shy of its 200th birthday.

For those of you who wanted a pool to be built in the place of this national historic treasure, congratulations, you have quite a victory, or should I say 'hole,' on your hands.

Just what kind of history is Cynthiana voting to erase?

The kind that solidifies its place of prominence among our statewide and national histories. When our students learn about the Civil War, and they read the words written by Lincoln: "I think to lose Kentucky is nearly the same as to lose the whole game," (1861), will Cynthiana students be taught about their community's connection to this important moment in U.S. history - Lincoln writing them to a native Cynthiana boy from Ridgeway?

Wouldn't it have been a remarkable lesson learned if they could walk up the hill to a restored and beautiful landmark in their community and could proudly point to it as evidence of Cynthiana's rightful place in our national history?

Oh well, maybe in a decade or so, some of the kids of the community might be able to go swimming and isn't that more important anyway?

Despite the house's cosmetic appearance, it was inspected and deemed structurally sound by a top Cincinnati architect. After producing a sound business plan by real estate developer and Brown descendant, as requested, and as favorably received in late July by both the fiscal court and city commission, the finances necessary to restore the house were within grasp.

Since the house was placed on the National Register of Historic Places in 2005, simply allowing interested parties to raise the money for restoration, federal funding opportunities would be available for the park's completion. However, this disgraceful decision by the fiscal court has denied the future generations a national historic treasure, a new community space and a completed park they were promised over a decade ago.

The plan proposed was sound and included provisions for the pool next to the house. Now that this landmark is passing, just how many 200-year-old structures with city, statewide and national prominence do we have in Cynthiana to make this one obsolete?

County needs more meeting space for addiction recovery

To the editor:

My name is Daniel Cullen and I am a gratefully recovering addict with more than three years of sobriety. I write this, not to speak of my journey to sobriety, but to ask those of our community to lend a healing hand to the many suffering addicts who are living and dying in our community.

The beginnings of recovery are simple -- attend an AA, CA or NA meeting. Over the course of my recovery, I have attended more than 400 meetings throughout central Kentucky, but there are woefully few right here in Cynthiana.

What's needed are volunteers to find locations, to schedule and hold regular meetings.

Right here, for example, there are many vacant buildings in the downtown area that could be used for such a purpose. This would allow recovering addicts a site to help each other. It would, in turn, afford someone a chance at starting a new and hopeful life.

With the help of meetings, a long-term recovery program I attend and the experience, strength and hope other recovering addicts and alcoholics have shared with me, today I reach out to give back to those who have so unselfishly helped me.

I have not used any mind-altering substances since June 19, 2011. If you are willing to help end addiction in our community, contact me through email at dcullen2017@yahoo.com.

HMH earns Top Performer on Key Quality Measures recognition

Harrison Memorial Hospital (HMH) announced it has been recognized as a 2013 Top Performer on Key Quality Measures® by The Joint Commission, the leading accreditor of healthcare organizations in the United States. HMH was recognized as part of The Joint Commission’s 2014 annual report’ “America’s Hospitals: Improving Quality and Safety,” for attaining and sustaining excellence in accountability measure performance for pneumonia and surgical care. HMH is one of 1,224 hospitals in the United States to achieve the 2013 Top Performer distinction.

The Top Performer program recognizes hospitals for improving performance on evidence-based interventions that increase the chances of healthy outcomes for patients with certain conditions, and HMH was measured on pneumonia and surgical care.

To be a 2013 Top Performer, hospitals had to meet three performance criteria based on 2013 accountability measure data, including:
Achieving cumulative performance of 95 percent or above across all reported accountability measures;
Achieving performance of 95 percent or above on each and every reported accountability measure where there were at least 30 denominator cases; and
Having at least one core measure set that had a composite rate of 95 percent or above, and (within that measure set) all applicable individual accountability measures had a performance rate of 95 percent or above.
“Delivering the right treatment in the right way at the right time is a cornerstone of high-quality health care. I commend the efforts of HMH for their excellent performance on the use of evidence-based inter-

Thank You

Dear community of Harrison County, friends and family:

We, the family of Johnny Beckett, would like to thank you all for the enormous outpouring and generosity which you have given in laying our loved one to rest. The support shown could never be repaid or forgotten!

The prayers, money, cards, flowers, beautiful gifts, the decals made, the special events held by the Silver Bullet & Southern Highway, Joe’s Place, special photo by Jared Biddle, donated items for the silent auction, words of Marty Ritchie, all the calls, messages, your company, donations of the plot, ones who stood beside us from day one, lending time, support, encouragement, love or a shoulder to cry on. We feel blessed beyond measure, a simple “thank you” could never come close to the gratitude we feel. May God bless each and every one who had their hand in helping lay our dear loved one to rest.

Main Street Program adds holiday market to Christmas parade

By JOSH SHEPHERD, News Writer

After Thanksgiving dinner and the Black Friday blitz, The Cynthiana Main Street Program invites everyone to enjoy the rest of their holiday weekend shopping in Cynthiana.

As an incentive, the Main Street Program is sponsoring the Cynthiana Holiday Market on Saturday morning, Nov. 29, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the historic downtown business district.

According to Cynthiana Main Street program director Emily Ammerman, the 2014 Holiday Market hopes to turn Pike Street between Walnut and Main streets into a pedestrian walkway loaded with Christmas decorations, holiday music and plenty of opportunities for holiday shopping for the whole family.

There will also be an effort to spruce up empty store fronts with holiday decorations all around downtown to make a visit to Cynthiana's historic business district a memorable one, she added.

But the main reason to come to Cynthiana on Saturday is for the holiday shopping bargains and specials available right here at home, she said.

It is the perfect opportunity for anyone wanting to find excellent bargains on popular Christmas gift items and to find that distinctive Harrison County item that can't be found anywhere else but Cynthiana, Ammerman said.

The Holiday Market will also feature pop-up markets all along Pike Street for area businesses that are a little off the beaten path but have many gift-giving treasures for the entire family - all the way down to the family pets, she said.

At 139 E. Pike Street and in the building at 114 and 116 E. Pike Street, these pop-up shops will feature specials from Canine Correct: Table Food for Dogs; Heartfelt Baskets and Gift; GTO Stables & Milk Pail Soap and Kentucky for Kentucky.

"That's the short list. We'll have other businesses featured at these pop-up markets as well," said Ammerman.

The Holiday Market will be a perfect lead-in to the annual Cynthiana-Harrison County Chamber of Commerce Christmas Parade, which will commence at 4 p.m.

Participating Historic District Businesses:

- Flower Depot
- Uniques
- Ewalt's Jewelers
- A.J. Flowers
- Biancke's

- Restaurant VanHook
- Hardware J.J.'s Sweet Bakery and Café
- Paula's Restaurant
- Rohs Opera House

Pop Up Shops:

- Cynthiana Main Street
 - Kentucky for Kentucky
 - Canine Correct Table Food for Dogs
 - Heartfelt Baskets and Gift
 - GTO Stables & Milk Pail Soap
- ...and many more to come!

Events:

- Pictures with

- Santa for children
- Pictures with Santa for pets from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. - cost: $8/photo
- Ornament Decorating at Biancke's Restaurant from 1:30 p.m. to 3:30 p.m.
- Cynthiana Chamber of Commerce Christmas Parade at 4 p.m.
- Rohs Opera House showing Hunger Games: MockingJay, Part 1 at 7 p.m.

Harvest of Hopes offers community a Thanksgiving dinner

By BECKY BARNES, Editor

For those who may be spending Thanksgiving alone with no special meal to commemorate the day, there is hope ... Harvest of Hope.

Unity Christmas Church members and volunteers are preparing 1,200 meals for Thanksgiving day.

It's the usual fare: turkey, dressing, gravy, mashed potatoes, green beans, yeast rolls and white or chocolate cake.

And, it's free.

Vicki Faulkner, one of the organizers and a volunteer, said that 998 people were served last year.

They want that number exceeded. Just a week away and they already have reservations for 460 meals.

"The majority of those are deliveries," Faulkner said.

Only about 100 people are fed at the Harrison County High School. The balance are delivered to the homes of those who call in and ask.

"That's all they have to do," Faulkner said. "Everyone is welcome."

She said Harvest of Hope is not limited to shut-ins or those who cannot afford the turkey and trimmings.

It's for anyone who wants to come and share the day, she said. Families. Singles. Couples.

It takes a crowd to help deliver the many requests for meals. She said they usually schedule about 35 drivers and riders.

Starla Fields and Karen Walters organize the delivery line, which Faulkner described operates like a drive-thru.

While they would prefer as many advance reservations as possible, she said they will take deliveries until 1 p.m. on Thanksgiving day. That's the latest possible time to make a request for a meal.

To make reservations or to have a meal delivered, call 859-588-7712.

Harvest of Hope also feeds residents from Shady Lawn and Parkside.

Unity Christian and Leesburg Christian churches provide buses to bring diners to the cafeteria and return them home.

Harrison's senate rep resigns after winning Rowan judge's seat

By MARLA TONCRAV,

THE LEDGER INDEPENDENT

State Sen. Walter Blevins Jr., (D-27 District) will resign his position in the Kentucky Senate after the first of the year.

Blevins is leaving his senatorial seat after 23 years for his new job as judge-executive of Rowan County. Blevins defeated Republican candidate Richard White for the county's top position in the Nov. 4 general election.

He was assigned to Harrison County after general assembly redistricting last year.

Blevins said Monday he will more than likely tender his resignation on Monday, Jan. 5, and begin his new duties as judge-executive on Jan. 6.

The 27th senatorial district includes Bourbon, Fleming, Harrison, Lewis, Mason, Nicholas, Robertson and Rowan counties.

Blevins said after being in the minority party in the state Senate for the last 10 to 15 years, he is looking forward to his new duties and working with a fiscal court that is made up of Democrats.

He also has plans to close his dental practice in West Liberty.

Blevins served in the Kentucky House of Representatives from 1982 to 1992, when he won a special election to become state senator.

According to the Kentucky Legislative Research Commission, he serves on the following committees: Interim Committees - Agriculture; Appropriations and Revenue; BR Sub. on Gen. Govt., Finance and Public Protection; Education; Elementary and Secondary Education; Rural Issues;

Session Committees - Agriculture (S); Appropriations and Revenue (S); BR Sub. on Gen. Govt., Finance and Public Protection (S); Education (S); Statutory Committees - Medicaid Oversight and Advisory Committee.

An official with the Secretary of State's communication office in Frankfort said once the resignation is tendered a writ for a special election will be issued by

Gov. Steve Beshear or the General Assembly, setting a date for a special election.

The election will take place 56 days after the writ is issued and both political parties will have the opportunity to submit petitions for candidate nominations 49 days before the election.

Printed with permission.

Cynthiana DAR hosts reception for Veterans Day celebration

The Cynthiana Chapter of the DAR members, hosted by Sarah Kinney, held a reception for the Veterans Day Celebration on Nov. 11.

The celebration was held at Battle Grove Cemetery in honor of the U.S. Air Force. The Harrison County High School band provided the music directed by John Merz. Master of ceremonies was Billy Grayson. Guest speaker was Chief Master Sergeant Bill Blackburn. The National Anthem was sung by Karen Bear; Medley of Armed Forces by Carol Hyatt, and The Pledge of Allegiance was lead by Bob Owen. The American Legion Post 109 of Falmouth, Ky., gave the 21-gun salute. Taps was played and the celebration ended around noon.

In lieu of the Veterans Day Celebration, no business meeting was held. The next meeting of the Cynthiana Chapter of the DAR will be held at the home of Karrol Pinney at noon on Dec. 6. This meeting will mark the 90th anniversary of the Cynthiana National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution Chapter.

Omega chapter to hold Christmas dinner Dec. 1

Omega chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority met at the home of Rosemary Lucas on Monday, Nov. 3. President Charlene Dawson led the opening ritual.

During roll call, each member was supposed to name their best friend, either from the past or present. Ten members were present.

Program chairman Bonnie Teater introduced the evening's program.

Cheryl Case discussed expanding the family tree by adding new friends as part of our family. Using the book "Sweet Salt Air" by Barbara Delinsky, she read an essay on the art of friendship.

Case passed questions out for each member to discuss. She talked about what the sorority provides for everyone in the group. Traits of good friends include honesty, loyalty, generosity, and meeting the needs of others.

During the business meeting, Dawson read a thank you card from the local food pantry for the cases of food each member contributed.

The social committee was thanked for the planning the day at Keeneland for members and husbands.

Christmas dinner will be held at the Vault on Dec. 1. Social hour is at 6 p.m. with dinner following. Secret sister gift exchange will be celebrated.

Monthly breakfast at Bianckes will be Friday, Nov. 21.

Service committee was thanked for lunch served for the residents of Clifton Village in October. Bingo was played, with gift certificates at a local grocery store given for prizes. This event will be held again later in the year.

Kay Cox thanked everyone for cards and flowers during her recent illness.

Bonnie Teater gave the Grey book review on "The object of Beta Sigma Phi."

Monthly member's birthdays and anniversaries were announced.

Dawson led the closing ritual and Mizpah.

Tim Roark, 8, Piper Roark, 10, and Chloe Grimm, 9, showed a gift for inventiveness as they converted an ice and snow-covered ramp in the front of their house into a makeshift sled run on the first snow day of the winter season.

Once plants are on track for dormancy, start winter garden clean up Cooler temperatures, a touch of frost and some freezing overnight temperatures are all timely because it allows our plants to make the transition into dormancy.

Our winter chill is a bit early but it is inevitable; and predictions call for another memorable one.

So, for our plants, the best scenario is to stay cool so they can do what they are supposed to do this time of the year.

Temperature and day length are the primary factors that trigger dormancy and once plants are on track we can start doing some things to get the garden ready for winter.

For example, if you need to prune boxwood or Taxus hedges do so after a first killing frost.

If you prune too early, you will stimulate new growth that will not have sufficient time to harden off before winter.

Dead tips on evergreen hedges are unsightly plus a dead tip on woody growth creates

Jeneen Wiche
Columnist
www.SwallowRailFarm.com

an open door for opportunistic insects and disease looking for a place to spend ture, temperature and controlling weeds.

There are a great many cool season weeds that germinate, grow and flower during this slow time in the garden and if we mulch, we will be one step closer to better weed management in the garden.

Coarser-textured mulch like pine straw or pine bark nuggets is better than the common shredded bark mulch because it allows for better water and oxygen penetration.

The same goes for the vegetable garden. For most of us, by now there are more weeds in the vegetable patch than vegetable debris (this year was a remarkably weedy year by most accounts).

If we take time to do a little cultivating while we clean up the old tomato, bean and pepper plants, we will be that much closer to a healthier and cleaner garden come spring.

After you pull out old plants, turn the soil and pile on the composted manure.

If you have well composted manure then weeds should not be a problem, but if you think that weed seed is present, you can sprinkle some corn gluten on top which will prevent cool season weeds from germinating.

In April, before spring prep begins, turn the soil again and you will be ready to go.

Pruning chores for woody plants can be done during the dormant months as well. But there are several things to consider.

Don't do any pruning of spring flowering shrubs because they set buds on early season growth that occurs before the month of July.

Azaleas, rhododendrons and many viburnum species are included in this category and should be pruned right after they finish blooming in the spring instead.

Big leaf hydrangeas (H. macrophylla) can be the most confounding: They bloom on the previous season's growth and since they are more susceptible to winter and early spring damage, we sometimes miss a season of bloom despite our timely pruning.

Clean these up after they finish blooming in spring and summer but be sure to save the current season's growth for next year's bloom.

Annabelle hydrangeas bloom on new wood so you can prune all the way to the ground if you choose.

Other woody plants and trees can be pruned in winter but if you need to do heavy pruning wait to do so in late winter.

Pruning just before spring growth begins is ideal because the threat of insect infestation is over and the plant has the ability to heal more efficiently as it prepares to break dormancy.

We prune trees all winter long just to keep up with our chores, so don't be afraid to remove structurally inappropriate, dead or infected wood or crossing branches when the opportunity presents itself this winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe McDuffey; Terri Ann Leach, Nov. 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Henson Leach; Angela Dawn Haley, Nov. 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James William Haley; John Douglas Day, Nov. 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Day.

In a formal and final report to Circuit Judge John P. Lair, the Harrison County Grand Jury: called for the closing of two alley crossings; urged the City of Cynthiana to improve conditions at the dump; requested an additional State Trooper for Harrison County; recommended that the sheriff's department keep close vigilance on night operations of retail establishments in Harrison County having licenses for the sale of malt beverages or distilled spirits; felt a more strict enforcement of traffic laws should be attained by the County Court; and suggested that a copy of their report be made available to the February 1965 term of Grand Jury for review.

A safer entrance and exit at Westside Elementary School is being anticipated through the installation of a traffic island following three vehicle mishaps.

A Moonlight Sale has been set by Cynthiana merchants for Friday, Nov. 27.

Farming

KDA sets 2015 poster contest theme

"Kentucky Agriculture: Growing the Next Generation of Farmers" is the theme of the Kentucky Department of Agriculture's 2015 Poster and Essay Contest.

"Kentucky's young people are our future farmers, consumers, and citizens," Agriculture Commissioner James Comer said. "It's important for them to know where their food comes from and understand the effort, skill, and care it takes to produce it. This contest helps raise awareness of agriculture's important role in our everyday lives, and it may even inspire some participating students to join the next generation of farmers."

Students are asked to submit either a poster, an essay, or a digital image based on the contest theme.

Statewide poster and essay winners from each grade, kindergarten through 12th, will be chosen, and an overall digital winner will be selected. Cash prizes will be presented to the winners in March at the Kentucky Agriculture Day Celebration, and their work will be displayed at next summer's Kentucky State Fair.

Entries must be postmarked no later than Jan. 27. A completed entry form must be taped or glued to the back of each entry.

The name of the teacher and school must accompany each entry. Winners will be notified on Feb. 20.

The contest is conducted by the Kentucky Department of Agriculture in partnership with Kentucky Agriculture and Environment in the Classroom Inc.

For more information, including complete contest rules and entry forms, go to www.kyagr.com/agcontest or contact Agriculture Education Coordinator Jordan L. Spalding at (502) 782-4125 or jordan.spalding@ky.gov.

USDA Extends Dairy Margin Protection Deadlines

Agriculture Secretary Tom Vilsack, speaking at the National Milk Producers Federation annual meeting, announced extended deadlines for the dairy Margin Protection Program.

Farmers now have until Dec. 5, 2014, to enroll in the voluntary program, established by the 2014 Farm Bill. The program provides financial assistance to participating farmers when the margin – the difference between the price of milk and feed costs – falls below the coverage level selected by the farmer.

Producers are encouraged to use the online Web resource at www.fsa.usda.gov/mpptool to calculate the best levels of coverage for their dairy operation. The secure website can be accessed via computer, smartphone or tablet.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) also extended the opportunity for public comments on both the Margin Protection Program and the Dairy Product Donation Program until Dec. 15, 2014.

"If our current rules hinder intergenerational changes or if improvements are needed in these programs, then we want to hear from dairy producers," said Agriculture Secretary Tom Vilsack.

Comments can be submitted to USDA via the regulations.gov website at <http://go.usa.gov/GJSA>.

City snow plows were called out Monday morning to clear the streets on an unseasonably cold and snowy day. Snowfall ranged from between one to two inches in southern Harrison County to as much as four to five inches in the northern half.

December 1 is deadline for USDA FSA County Committee Elections

The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) is encouraging farmers to make their voices heard by voting in the Farm Service Agency (FSA) County Committee elections.

The USDA mailed ballots for the 2014 elections to eligible producers across the country. Producers must return ballots to their local FSA offices by Monday, Dec. 1 to ensure that their vote is counted.

FSA County Committee members provide an important link between the agricultural community and USDA. Farmers and ranchers elected to county committees help deliver FSA programs at the local level, applying their knowledge and judgment to make decisions on commodity support programs; conservation programs; indemnity and disaster programs; emergency programs and eligibility. County committees operate within official regulations designed to carry out federal laws.

To be an eligible voter, farmers and ranchers must participate or cooperate in an FSA program. A person who is not of legal voting age, but supervises and conducts the farming operations of an entire farm may also be eligible to vote. Agricultural producers in each county submitted candidate nominations during the nomination period, which ended on Aug. 1, 2014.

Eligible voters who do not receive ballots in the coming week may pick one up at the USDA Service Center or FSA office, 103 Rodgers Park Drive. The deadline to submit ballots is Dec. 1, 2014.

Ballots returned by mail must be postmarked no later than Dec. 1, 2014. Newly elected committee members and their alternates will take office Jan. 1, 2015.

More information on county committees can be found on the FSA website at www.fsa.usda.gov/elections. You may also contact your local USDA Service Center or FSA office.

Fillies edge Hazard in first scrimmage

By Mike Aldridge, Sports Writer
The Harrison County Fillies defeated the Hazard Lady Bulldogs Saturday in the Bates Creek Panorama played at Henry Clay.

The game was an unorthodox two 16-minute halves with a continuous clock so there really wasn't much playing time.

The Fillies won the contest 19 to 15. Hazard played a zone-on defense causing the Fillies to shoot from the perimeter but Harrison County struggled to find the range.

The Fillies' first half defense was effective but Coach Kim Furnish was not happy with the offense created by the defense.

The second half was much better with the Fillies using a full court press to cause turnovers, which created some transition baskets.

"We still didn't create enough offense to pull away from them," noted Furnish. "We also will have to work on our free throws as we made only 50 percent from the line."

Furnish was pleased with the Fillies' ability to get to the line but emphasized the need to make the free tosses when they are available.

The Fillies next scrimmage is Nov. 29 when they travel to Woodford County to take on Bethlehem of Bardstown.

Eighth grade Colts win invitational tournament with big win over Nicholas

By Mike Aldridge, Sports Writer
Harrison County Middle School's Invitational Tournament had very good results for the eighth grade team as they easily won the championship game Saturday, 66-26, over Nicholas County.

Thomas Thompson led the Colts in scoring with 11 points while Quentin Turley scored nine. Spencer Free and Quentin Pratt each tallied eight points.

The Colts jumped out to a 19-0 lead after one quarter and the game was never in doubt.

The best game of the tournament came on Friday night when Frankfort Middle School took on the eighth grade Colts. This game was very close early as the Colts led by only two points after one period.

Harrison County extended the lead to 30-18 at the half and then held off a fourth quarter rally to win 55-45.

Free, who scored 23 points in the game, was injured in the third period. His teammates stretched the lead to 20 points before the Frankfort rally in the fourth period.

Blake Price scored 12 points and Thompson added 10 for the Colts.

"This was one of the best games that I have seen our eighth grade play," said

HCHS Cheerleaders win 10th Region Championships, on to state in December

By Mike Aldridge, Sports Writer
The Harrison County High School cheerleaders, competing in the small division, won the 10th Region Championship Saturday. They defeated George Rogers Clark and Campbell County for the title.

The small division, which indicates 12 girls competing, is the most difficult of the competition. Not only because 12 girls are competing, but also because the perennial top teams are in this division.

On Saturday, Campbell County had some difficulty with some falls in a couple of stunts but George Rogers Clark did a nearly flawless routine before the Harrison County squad took the floor.

This put additional pressure on the girls and the coaches as the George Rogers Clark squad is one of Harrison County's toughest competitors year in and year out.

Harrison County struggled a bit the weekend before in Lexington causing a lot of additional work last week to prepare for the regional competition.

Thorobreds football holds 2014 banquet

By Mike Aldridge, Sports Writer
The Harrison County High School football team held its season-ending banquet Thursday evening in the high school cafeteria.

The event was emceed by WCYN radio sportscaster Jim Swinford and featured a meal prepared by B&B Catering.

Dr. Rick Arnold, HCHS graduate and super booster, was the guest speaker for the banquet.

Arnold reminisced about the history of Cynthiana and Harrison County sports dating back to the community schools such as Oddville and Sunrise to the current schools on the Hilltop.

He spoke directly about football, noting a common theme of "football is not for everyone" and relating the game to life itself.

Assistant Coach David Conner began the recognition portion of the program by asking the undefeated junior varsity team to stand.

Conner went on to say that this team has great potential as they have been undefeated through their freshman and sophomore years.

The award winners for most outstanding in different areas were: Offensive Lineman- Michael Highlander; Defensive Lineman- Christian Sinckler; Linebacker- Luke Slucher; Defensive Back- Tyler Jackson; Offensive Back- Mark Taylor; Wide Receiver- Jovon Williams; and Special Teams- Kellon Newby.

Senior Jordan Kenney won the Most Improved Award and fellow senior Tyler Price won the BRED Award.

Coach Jim Carr thanked his support staff, including his coaches and other people from the community who have been loyal supporters of his program.

The third-year coach then recognized the five seniors who were in attendance.

They were Mark Taylor, Kenney, Andrew Norfleet, Price and Harley Bruin. Greg Rife and Brandon Williams were also seniors who were on the team but not in attendance.

Swinford closed the program by thanking all who attended and by encouraging the returning players to hit the weight room.

MIKE'S MINUTE

Is it up to the NFL?

Adrian Peterson has been suspended for the remainder of the 2014-15 season by the National Football League for not upholding the league's player conduct rules.

He joins Ray Rice as the two players whose non-drug-related, off-field actions have prevented them from playing at all this season.

One big difference in the punishment of the two players is that Peterson, until now, has been paid while Rice has not.

That is not, however, the only difference. And, the difference in their actions is what probably led to the penalty being more severe for Rice.

After all, Rice beat up his then girlfriend, now fiancée, on film for everyone who cared to watch to see.

His actions were extremely vulgar and heinous, which led to his suspension and the Ravens to drop him from their squad.

The NFL is now making public service announcements about how they are changing the culture of the players while decrying the violence toward women much due to Rice's actions on the film.

In this day of You Tube and

Mike Aldridge
Sports Writer

camera phones, whatever action taken by anyone, good or bad, is subject to immediate viewing by anyone who cares to do so.

Peterson on the other hand is guilty of spanking (beating) his son in such a way that marks were on the young man as a result of the discipline.

This was magnified by the fact that the boy lives with an ex-wife so the injuries were somewhat blown out of proportion.

At the time of the reported incident, one could hardly go anywhere without much talk about how in their youth they were "spanked" at least as hard as the Peterson boy and their parents were not subjected to legal proceedings.

That could very well be right, and in fact I was disciplined rather strictly a few times though not to the point of visible marks being left on me. Or at least I do not recall marks being left on me.

In those days, the child was not in charge and discipline was pretty much left up to the parents with little or no interference.

The point of all of this though is why should the NFL be responsible for the actions of players off the field?

Unless there is a crime committed where the authorities take the player away in handcuffs, I don't understand where the employer has a say in the final punishment.

Don't get me wrong, I am not in favor of beating children or women or men for that matter.

What I see happening is the movement by some to regulate football until the sport becomes such a pamby mamby game that it is forever changed.

We have soccer moms already going on and on about how violent football is yet we read about a soccer player sucker punching an official in such a way that the official dies.

Football players are taught to hit hard and to try to inflict pain on the opponent.

This effort is bound to have some violent contact but not much more than soccer does without any padding or head protection.

No matter what the sport or whatever else we do, there are some inherent dangers.

All the players and game officials can do is play within the rules and provide the best safety features to the participants.

After that, whatever the player does outside the lines shouldn't be the team's or the league's responsibility as long as a crime is not committed.

Meet the Fillies and Breds Friday
Meet the Fillies and Breds Friday at 6 PM on the Hilltop

The Harrison County High School basketball Fillies and Breds will be in exhibition Friday night at 6 p.m. as they prepare to open the 2014-15 season.

The bowling, wrestling, archery and dance teams along with the band and cheerleaders have also been invited to attend.

The admission for the event is $1 per person. Before the event, the Fillies are hosting a pork dinner in the high school cafeteria beginning at 5 p.m. Cost is $5 per plate. The proceeds from the meal will go to help defray the cost of the season for the basketball team.

Coach Glenn Lonaker. "Frankfort had a really good team, tall and long, and they gave us a battle."

Frankfort Middle won the third place game in the eighth grade tournament by a 61 to 31 margin over Pendleton County.

The seventh grade Colts did not fare so well in the tourney as they lost twice.

Friday night they gave Frankfort Middle a tough go of it losing 31-25.

The Colts led by five points at the half, 15 to 10, but Frankfort outscored them by 10 points in the third quarter to take the lead and eventually the ball game.

Tayshaun Custard was the leading scorer with 10 points while Cameron Covington tossed in five points for the Colts.

Saturday night in the third place game, Pendleton County added to a four-point halftime lead by outscoring the Colts nine to one in the third period to take a 34 to 27 win.

Custard was again the leading scorer with six points while Casey Sledd scored five points. Nicholas County defeated Frankfort Middle for the seventh grade crown.

The scheduled sixth and seventh grade games at Robertson County for Monday night have been rescheduled for Tuesday, Dec. 9.

Records

Dwana Knapp of Comp Care reported that her office had been vandalized. A chair was overturned, the computer monitor was on the floor with a hole punched in the screen. The cord to the keyboard was cut. She said she checked doors and windows and nothing had been left open. No other offices were disturbed. However, she said things in her office were moved around the previous week, but no damage had been done.

Nov. 9 -- At 1:41 p.m., Gene Wilson, 507 E. Bridge St., reported that his wallet was taken from his pockets. He told police that he was having some work done on his house. One of the workers allegedly went inside the house to get payment, which is when the worker pulled his feet out from under him causing him to fall. He said his wallet was taken then. The wallet was found later on Bridge Street.

Nov. 9 -- At 1:56 p.m., police were called to North Walnut Street for a report of juvenile who had been running near the cemetery and was jumped by four or five other juveniles.

Nov. 10 -- At 4:02 a.m., police were called to investigate a report of domestic violence on Hinkston Avenue.

Nov. 10 -- At 8:20 a.m., Dennis Motell of Harrison Repair Shop on Main Street reported that sometime after closing the previous day, someone broke off some concrete blocks from a retaining wall.

Nov. 10 -- At 9:23 a.m., police were called to 414 Hillside Drive regarding a verbal domestic situation.

Nov. 10 -- At 4 p.m., police were called to Walmart parking lot where George Parsons, Falmouth, struck a 2011 Cadillac CTS, owned by Kimberly Snapp, Cynthiana, which was parked in the lot. Parsons advised that he would take care of the minor damage to Snapp's vehicle.

Nov. 11 -- At 8:37 p.m., police were advised by former Cynthiana police officer Josh Carter that there was a reckless driver on U.S. 62 West. Police stopped Tabatha Newton, who allegedly failed all field sobriety tests. She was arrested and charged with operating motor vehicle under influence of alcohol, drugs, etc. and failure to maintain insurance.

Arrests, citations, warnings

Cheerleaders

The hard work paid off as the girls had an excitement-packed routine. They nailed each stunt with great enthusiasm.

This left the scoring up to the judges and the Harrison County team stood on top as the results was announced.

Harrison County advances to the state competition, which will be in the All Tech Arena at the Kentucky Horse Park on Dec. 13.

"I couldn't be happier with or more proud of the girls and the effort that they put forth on the floor today," said Coach Jessica Reynolds. "The gym was full of people supporting us, too, which is always an amazing feeling."

The Harrison County Middle School cheerleaders were also victorious Saturday as they too were first place winners. The HCMS squad is coached by Kenzie Leathers.

LEGAL NOTICE
MASTER COMMISSIONER'S SALE

Pursuant to a Judgment and Order of Sale entered by the Harrison Circuit Court on May 21, 2014 in Civil Action No. 13-CI-00026 Styled JPMorgan Chase Bank, National Association, Plaintiff, vs. Denise Clifford, Defendant, the Master Commissioner of the Harrison Circuit Court will sell at public auction to the highest and best bidder at the Harrison County Justice Center, in Cynthiana, Kentucky, on Friday, November 21, 2014 at 10:00 a.m., the following described property:

Beginning at a steel pin in the west right-of-way line of Lafferty Pike (Ky. 1054) at a corner to Charles Pulliam adjacent to the north margin of the old abandoned Piggs Ford Road intersection with Lafferty Pike.

Thence from the above described point of beginning and following the Pulliam west boundary fence S 34°51'20" W 440.00 feet to a steel pin; thence N 55°08'40" W 200.00 feet; thence N 34°51'20" E 440.00 feet to a steel pin in the west right-of-way line S 55°08'40" E 200.00 feet back to the point of beginning, containing 2.02 acres.

This description was compiled from data acquired by a new survey made by Thomas D. Williams in September, 1978. See plat recorded in Plat Cabinet 1, Sheet 21-D.

Subject to any and all easements, restrictions, conditions, and legal highways of record and/or in existence.

Being the same property conveyed from Robert W. Beckett and Doris Beckett, husband and wife, to Denise Clifford (no marital status) by virtue of a deed dated 07/30/2003 and recorded on 08/06/2003 at Book 267, Page 791 of the Harrison County, Kentucky real estate records.

The property is being sold to produce a sum sufficient to satisfy the judgments and liens as follows: (a) The costs of this action, including the Master Commissioner's fee, appraiser's fee and advertising costs; and (b) Judgment for the Plaintiff, JPMorgan Chase Bank, National Association, in the amount of $87,135.21 plus interest from January 31, 2014 at the rate of 5.5000% per annum until paid, plus any additional costs expended by Plaintiff to protect or preserve the property until sale date. (c) Real Estate taxes, plus interest and penalties, if any, for taxes assessed for the year 2013 and previous years. (d) Plaintiff's Court costs and attorney fees.

The property shall be sold upon the following terms and conditions: (1) The property shall be sold free and clear of all liens and claims of the parties to this action; (2) The purchaser shall be required to pay the sum of 10% of the purchase price in cash, certified funds or by other immediately verifiable collectable medium of exchange acceptable to the Commissioner, on the day of sale to apply on the purchase price; (3) The balance of the purchase price shall be

MASTER COMMISSIONER'S SALE

Pursuant to a Judgment and Order of Sale entered by the Harrison Circuit Court on August 20, 2014 in Civil Action No. 12-CI-00267 styled Nationstar Mortgage, LLC, Plaintiff, vs. Gregory L. Roberts, Jessica L. Roberts, Home Partners Credit Corp. and Commonwealth of Kentucky, County of Harrison, Defendants, the Master Commissioner of the Harrison Circuit Court will sell at public auction to the highest and best bidder at the Harrison County Justice Center, in Cynthiana, Kentucky, on Friday, November 21, 2014 at 10:00 a.m., the following described property:

The land referred to herein below is situated in the County of Harrison, State of Kentucky, and is described as follows:

Being all of Lot 16A of record in Creek View Trace, Section 2, P.U.D., as shown on the plat thereof in Plat Cabinet 5, Sheet 187-A, Harrison County Clerk's Office.

The above described property is conveyed subject to all valid and existing restrictions of record, and applicable planning and zoning and health regulations including restrictive covenants for Creek View Trace Subdivision of record in Deed Book 220, Page 379, Harrison County Clerk's Office.

This property is also subject to the Declaration of Protective Covenants and Restrictions for Creek View Trace Subdivision, Section 2, dated September 28, 2000, and recorded in Deed Book 243, Page 395, Harrison County Clerk's Office.

This is part of the same property as that conveyed Donald Grose and Judy C. Grose, husband and wife, by deed from Henry Watson, III, Esq., acting as Trustee, dated July 21, 1999, and recorded in Deed Book 233, Page 457, Harrison County Clerk's Office.

Provided, however, that there is expected from the foregoing warranty and covenants of title the following:

- Any restrictions, easements and agreements of record in the aforesaid Clerk's Office.
- Zoning and building restrictions, regulations, and ordinances, if any.
- This is a deed of conveyance and is not a title examination.

Being the same property Gregory L. Roberts obtained title to by deed from Donald Grose, by and through his attorney-in-fact, Judy C. Grose, and Judy C. Official Notice

Blue Grass Energy Cooperative Corporation, with its principal office at Nicholasville, Kentucky and with its address at PO Box 990 1201 Lexington Road Nicholasville, Kentucky 40340 has filed with the Kentucky Public Service Commission in Case No. 2014-00339 an application to adjust its retail rates and charges. The need for this adjustment is due to an increase in Blue Grass Energy's expenses in the areas of wholesale power costs, depreciation, and general operating expenses. Blue Grass Energy is proposing to increase its electric rates by $2,450,474 or 2.17%.

The rates are to be filed with the Kentucky Public Service Commission on November 18, 2014 and are effective December 18, 2014. Phase two for the residential and farm rate classes will become effective approximately one year later. The rates contained in this notice are the rates proposed by Blue Grass Energy, Inc., but the Kentucky Public Service Commission may order rates to be charged that differ from these proposed rates contained in this notice. In addition, the Kentucky Public Service Commission may change the effective date.

A person may examine this application at the office of Blue Grass Energy located at 1201 Lexington Road Nicholasville, Kentucky 40340, Monday through Friday, 7:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. or at www.bgenergy.com. A person may also examine this application at the Kentucky Public Service Commission offices located at 211 Sower Boulevard, Frankfort, Kentucky, Monday through Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., or through the commission's Web site at <http://psc.ky.gov>.

Any comments regarding the application may be submitted to the Public Service Commission through its Web site, <http://psc.ky.gov>, or by mail to Public Service Commission , Post Office Box 615, Frankfort, Kentucky 40602. A person may submit a timely written request for intervention to the Public Service Commission Post Office Box 615, Frankfort, Kentucky 40602, establishing the grounds for the request including the status and interest of the party. If the Commission does not receive a written request for intervention within thirty (30) days of initial publication of the notice, the commission may take final action on the application.

Net Metering Service – Rate NMS

Company proposes text changes to the definition of "Billing Period Credit" to clarify that such a credit is a kWh-denominated electricity credit only, not a monetary credit. Company further proposes text changes to the Metering and Billing section to clarify how the Company accounts for billing period credits for customers taking service under time-of-day rates.

Standard Rider for Redundant Capacity Charge – Rider RC
	Current (Per kW/kVA)	Proposed (Per kW/kVA)
Capacity Reservation Charge per Month:
Secondary Distribution	$1.49	$1.12
Primary Distribution	$1.25	$1.11

Standard Rider for Supplemental or Standby Service – Rider SS

Contract Demand per month:
Secondary	$12.54	$12.84
Primary	$11.99	$11.63
Transmission	$10.84	$10.58

Also, Company proposes text changes to the Minimum Charge provision to clarify that for a Rider SS customer, Company will bill the customer monthly for all of the charges under the customer's applicable rate schedule, including, but not limited to, the applicable basic service charge, energy charges, and adjustment clauses. In addition to those charges, Company will bill the customer monthly a demand charge that is the greater of: (1) the customer's total demand charge calculated under the applicable rate schedule; or (2) the demand charge calculated using the applicable demand rate shown above applied to the Contract Demand.

Temporary and/or Seasonal Electric Service - Rider TS

Availability of Service:

Current: This rider is available at the option of the Customer where Customer's business does not require permanent installation of Company's facilities and is of such nature to require:

- only seasonal service or temporary service, including service provided for construction of residences or commercial buildings, and where in the judgment of Company the local and system electrical facility capacities are adequate to serve the load without impairment of service to other customers; or
- where Customer has need for temporary use of Company facilities and Company has facilities it is willing to provide.

This service is available for not less than one (1) month (approximately 30 days), but when service is used longer than one (1) month, any fraction of a month's use will be prorated for billing purposes.

Proposed: This rider is available at the option of Company where:

- Customer's business does not require permanent installation of Company's facilities excluding service provided for construction of permanent delivery points for residences and commercial buildings, and is of such nature to require only seasonal service or temporary service; or
- the service is over 50 kW, provided for construction purposes, and where in the judgment of Company the local and system electrical facility capacities are adequate to serve the load without impairment of service to other customers; or
- where Customer has need for temporary intermittent use of Company facilities and Company has facilities it is willing to provide Customer for installation and operational testing of Customer's equipment.

This service is available for not less than one (1) month (approximately thirty (30) days), but when service is used longer than one (1) month, any fraction of a month's use will be prorated for billing purposes. Where this service is provided under 2 or 3 above, Company will determine the term of service, which shall not exceed one (1) year.

Energy Charge per kWh:
Off-Peak Hours	$0.05587
Intermediate Hours	$0.07763
Peak Hours	$0.14297
Proposed – This rate schedule is proposed to be eliminated. The Company will make all reasonable efforts to contact Rate LEV customers to advise them of their new rate options after the Commission approves the new rates but before they take effect (at which time Rate LEV will terminate). Because Rate RTOD-Energy is the new rate most similar to Rate LEV, the Company will automatically transfer to Rate RTOD-Energy all Rate LEV customers who have not responded to the Company's outreach efforts by the effective date of the new rates; however, the Company will continue to make reasonable efforts to obtain those customers' input even after the rate change.

Economic Development Rider – Rider EDR

Company proposes changes to Rider EDR's Terms and Conditions to: (1) clarify the minimum demand required for the rider to be available to customer; (2) increase the range of certifications that can make a customer eligible for Rider EDR to include the Kentucky Business Investment Program (KBI), or the Kentucky Industrial Revitalization Act (KIRA), or the Kentucky Jobs Retention Act (KJRA), or other comparable programs approved by the Commonwealth of Kentucky; and (3) clarify that no credit under EDR will be calculated or applied to a customer's billing in any billing month in which the customer's metered load is less than the load required to be eligible for either Brownfield Development or Economic Development.

Customer Deposits
Current Rate:
For Customers Served Under Residential Service Rate RS:	$135.00
For Customers Served Under General Service Rate GS:	$220.00
For all other Customers not classified herein, the deposit will be no more than 2/12 of Customer's actual or estimated annual bill where bills are rendered monthly.
Proposed Rate:
For Customers Served Under Residential Service Rates RS, RTOD-Energy, and RTOD-Demand:	$160.00
For Customers Served Under General Service Rate GS:	$240.00
For all other Customers not classified herein, the deposit will be no more than 2/12 of Customer's actual or estimated annual bill where bills are rendered monthly.

Terms and Conditions – Customer Responsibilities

Adding the following provision that could result in a charge to certain customers:

Changes in Service

Where Customer is receiving service and desires relocation or change in facilities not supported by additional load, Customer is responsible for the cost of the relocation or change in facilities through a Non-Refundable Advance.

Terms and Conditions – Budget Payment Plan

Current:

Company's Budget Payment Plan is available to any residential customer or general service customer. Under this plan a customer may elect to pay, each billing period, a budgeted amount in lieu of billings for actual usage. A customer may enroll in the plan at any time.

Proposed:

Company's Budget Payment Plan is available to any residential customer served under Residential Service Rate RS or any general service customer served under General Service Rate GS. If a residential customer, who is currently served under Residential Service Rate RS and is currently enrolled in the Budget Payment Plan, elects to take service under Residential Time-of-Day Energy Service Rate RTOD-Energy or Residential Time-of-Day Demand Service Rate RTOD-Demand, such customer would be removed from the Budget Payment Plan and restored to regular billing. Under this plan, a customer may elect to pay, each billing period, a budgeted amount in lieu of billings for actual usage. A customer may enroll in the plan at any time.

Kentucky Utilities Company also proposes to change the text of the following electric tariffs: Residential Service Rate RS, General Service Rate GS, All Electric School Rate AES, Time-of-Day Primary Service Rate TODP, Retail Transmission Service Rate RTS, Lighting Service Rate LS, Restricted Lighting Service Rate RLS, Special Charges, Curtailable Service Rider CSR10, Curtailable Service Rider CSR30, Net Metering Service Rate NMS, Supplemental or Standby Service Rider SS, Temporary and/or Seasonal Service Rider TS, Economic Development Rider, Low Emission Vehicle Service Rate LEV, Demand Side Management Cost Recovery Mechanism DSM, Environmental Cost Recovery Surcharge ECR, and the Terms and Conditions.

Changes to the Terms and Conditions include the addition of a section on Company as a Federal Contractor, meter placement, proposed clarifications on terms and conditions specific to residential electric service, and expanded options for the Company to provide written notice for discontinuance of service due to nonpayment or non-compliance.

Complete copies of the proposed tariffs containing text changes and proposed rates may be obtained by contacting Edwin R. Staton, Kentucky Utilities Company at 220 West Main Street, Louisville, Kentucky, 502-627-4314, or visiting Kentucky Utilities Company's website at www.lge-ku.com.

The foregoing rates reflect a proposed annual increase in revenues of approximately 9.6% to Kentucky Utilities Company.

The estimated amount of the annual change and the average monthly bill to which the proposed electric rates will apply for each electric customer class is as follows:

The rates contained in this notice are the rates proposed by Kentucky Utilities Company; however, the Public Service Commission may order rates to be charged that differ from the proposed rates contained in this notice.

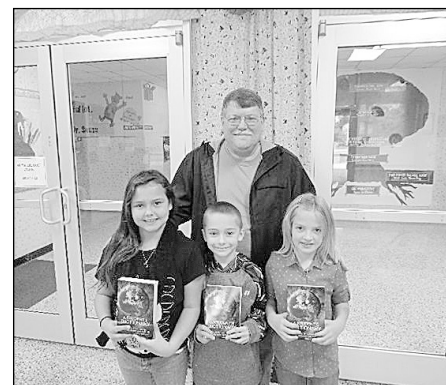

Notice is further given that any corporation, association, body politic or person with a substantial interest in the matter may by written request, within thirty (30) days after publication of the notice of the proposed rate changes, request to intervene. The request shall be submitted to the Public Service Commission, P. O. Box 615, Frankfort, Kentucky 40602, and shall set forth the grounds for the request, including the status and interest of the party. Intervention may be granted beyond the thirty (30) day period for good cause shown, however, if the Commission does not receive a written request for intervention within thirty (30) days of initial publication, the Commission may take final action on the application. Any person who has been granted intervention may obtain copies of the application and any other filing made by the utility by contacting Edwin R. Staton, Vice President – State Regulation and Rates, Kentucky Utilities Company, c/o LG&E and KU Energy LLC, 220 West Main Street, Louisville, Kentucky, 502-627-4314.

A copy of the application and testimony shall be available for public inspection at the office of Kentucky Utilities Company, 100 Quality Street, Lexington, Kentucky.

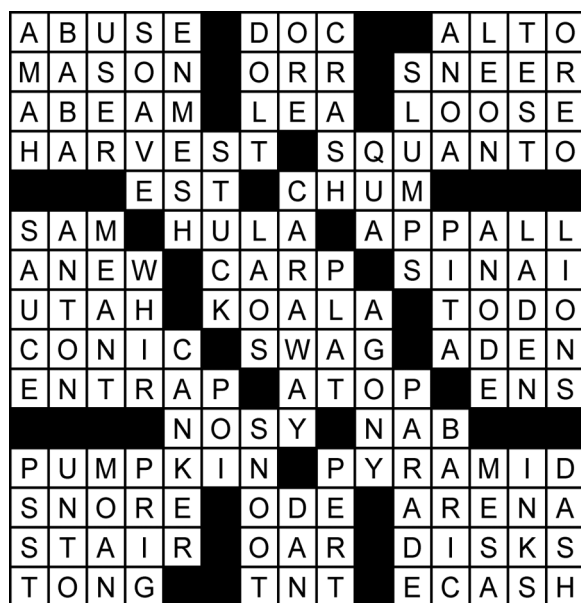

A copy of the application and testimony shall also be available for public inspection at the offices of the Kentucky Public Service Commission located at 211 Sower Boulevard, Frankfort, Kentucky, Monday through Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., or through the commission's Web site at http://psc.ky.gov. Comments regarding the application may be submitted to the Public Service Commission through its Web site or by mail to Public Service Commission, Post Office Box 615, Frankfort, Kentucky 40602.

A copy of this Notice and the proposed tariff, once filed, shall also be available for public inspection on Kentucky Utilities Company's website at www.lge-ku.com, or through the Public Service Commission's website at http://psc.ky.gov.

The property is being sold to produce a sum sufficient to satisfy the judgments and liens as follows: (a) The costs of this action, including the Master Commissioner's fee, appraiser's fee and advertising costs; and (b) Judgment for the Plaintiff, Vanderbilt Mortgage and Finance, Inc., in the principal amount of $74,177.15, interest in the amount of $3,874.73 plus interest at the rate of 7.74% from July 3, 2014 until entry of the judgment with interest thereafter at the rate of 12% per annum until paid, late charges in the amount of $62.70, escrow in the amount of $337.73, plus any additional costs expended by Plaintiff to protect or preserve the property until sale date. (c) Real Estate taxes, plus interest and penalties, if any, for taxes assessed for the year 2013 and previous years. (d) Plaintiff's Court costs and attorney fees.

The property shall be sold upon the following terms and conditions: (1) The property shall be sold free and clear of all liens and claims of the parties to this action; (2) The purchaser shall be required to pay the sum of 10% of the purchase price in cash, certified funds or by other immediately verifiable collectable medium of exchange acceptable to the Commissioner, on the day of sale to apply on the purchase price; (3) The balance of the purchase price shall be due and payable within thirty (30) days after the day of sale; (4) The purchaser shall be required to execute a bond with good and sufficient surety thereon as approved by the Commissioner to secure the unpaid portion of the purchase price, the bond to bear interest at the rate of 12% per annum from the day of sale until paid, the bond to have the same force and effect as a judgment and shall remain a lien on the property as additional security until the purchase price is paid in full; (5) In the event that the Plaintiff is the successful purchaser, it shall be entitled to a credit on its judgment against the purchase price and shall only be obligated to pay court costs, the fees and costs of the Master Commissioner, and any real estate taxes payable pursuant to this order, and in that event, no bond shall be required; (6) The purchaser shall have the privilege of paying all or any part of the purchase price or paying the bond before maturity by paying the balance of the principal together with all accrued interest thereon until the date of payment; (7) The purchaser shall obtain possession of the property upon confirmation of the sale by the Court and payment of the purchase price in full; (8) All ad valorem taxes on the property for calendar year 2014 and all subsequent years shall be assumed and paid by the purchaser. All real property taxes due and owing to Harrison County or the City of Cynthiana or City of Berry, if applicable, for 2013 and prior years will be paid from the proceeds of sale. (9) The property shall be sold subject to any assessment for public improvements levied against the property and subject to all rules and regulations enforced by the Cynthiana-Harrison County-Berry Joint Planning and Zoning Commission, all applicable health and safety regulations, all restrictions and easements thereon appearing of record in the Harrison County Court Clerk's Office, governmental laws and regulations affecting the property, and shall be subject to any unrecorded easements, discrepancies or conflicts in boundary lines, shortage in area and encroachments, if any there be, which an accurate and complete survey or an inspection of the property would disclose; (10) The purchaser shall bear the risk of loss on the improvements on the property and the risk of loss shall pass to the purchaser as of the day and time of sale; (11) The property shall be sold with any improvements thereon "as is"; and (12) The property shall be sold subject to such right of redemption as may exist in favor of the United States of America pursuant to 28 USC Section 2410, and the right of redemption of the Defendants.

All bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms.

Is God powerful? Yes, he is

A few weeks ago, I got an email at work with the subject line: "Is God powerful?"

I thought the email would be about God's power, but it was a political come-on to people of faith to vote for a certain candidate, who supposedly was God's choice and to please send money.

Actually, the email lost me at "the great state of Pennsylvania is wrestling with its destiny," since I live in Florida.

Not that I don't care what happens in Pennsylvania, but Florida has enough issues to keep me awake at night.

But the email sender posed a good question: "Is God powerful?"

The obvious answer is yes, of course God is powerful. He spoke the universe into existence, made something from nothing except his words and his breath.

He fashioned a man from a pile of dust and a woman from a piece of bone. He caused a couple in their 90s to conceive and bear a baby.

When his people ran for their lives after escaping slavery in Egypt and found themselves hemmed in by the sea in front of them and an army bearing down on them from behind, he made the sea part so his people, but not the pursuing army, could pass through.

Another time, three faithful young men were thrown into a fiery furnace and not even their clothing was singed, and another young man was thrown into a den of lions and was not harmed, all because of the power of God.

He appeared to Moses as a talking, burning bush. He enabled a donkey to speak. He healed lepers, restored sight to blind people.

He stopped time by making the sun and moon stand still. He raised the dead.

There's a strange story in the Old Testament about a man named Ezekiel encountering God.

God brings Ezekiel to a valley that's littered with brittle, dry bones, the skeletons of people long dead.

God asks Ezekiel if he thinks the bones could live. Ezekiel says he doesn't know, but he knows that God knows.

Then God tells Ezekiel to "prophecy" to the bones,

Nancy Kennedy
Columnist

to preach the word of the Lord to them and tell them to come alive.

Next thing Ezekiel knows, there's a loud rattling of bones being knit together, with tendons and flesh and skin covering them. Then the breath of life enters the put-back-together people and they come alive again (Ezekiel 37:1-14).

It's one of the strangest stories in the Bible, which is saying a lot because God did some strange stuff.

For some reason, I've been thinking a lot about that story, about a valley of dry bones. It's a picture of utter hopelessness, of devastation and despair, of lifelessness and desolation.

I imagine a desert that hasn't seen water in years, of a hot, dry wind that blows dirt in your face, snakes crawling on their bellies, tumbleweeds and scavenger birds circling overhead.

And then God says, "Can these bones live?"

Only if you do it, God.

Is God powerful? Yes, he is powerful.

However, I think when people ask that question, they're not asking about his ability to lasso the wind or create something from nothing. Instead, I think when people ask, "Is God powerful?" their real question is: "Does God love me?"

It's one thing to believe that God can make dead bones come alive, but quite another to believe that he will. Maybe not that he'll give life to a bunch of skeletons, since I imagine that was a one-time thing. But that he will do the equivalent in our lives, that he will heal our broken hearts, restore our broken lives, that he will bring light to our darkness, give us a future and a hope.

That he will make us alive.

I think the power of God is in his love for his people. He hears their cries and moves the mountain that stand in their way. He makes hearts of stone become soft and pliable, he forgives and takes away guilt and shame.

That's something only God can do.

Only God can do that, and he does it because of his love, his great and powerful love for sinful people who don't deserve it.

How am I to spend my Thanksgiving

I've spent many years trying to make Thanksgiving in our house more about the "thankfulness" than about the food, football and especially the Black Friday shopping that has begun to spill back into the holiday.

So this year I did something different. In January I shared with our family that I wanted all our holidays, birthdays and gatherings to be more about making memories than getting gifts.

I want us to do something active and creative that includes everyone in the plans.

So with that in mind, we spent our Easter in the park, our Memorial Day at the camp ground, birthdays with cookouts and fishing and even learned how to paint masterpieces.

Just recently we spent a whole afternoon just rolling in the fall leaves.

So how am I to spend this Thanksgiving?

We are going to be thankful for the food we have, the family we are and reminisce of the joys we have shared this year.

The Apostle Paul wrote to the members of the Philippi church that he thanked God every time he remembered them. (Philippians 1:3)

His thankfulness was based upon the experiences they shared and the friendships he made along the way.

Our memories and thankfulness should never be about "the stuff" we receive.

It should always be about the people in our lives and all that we share.

Thanksgiving, for me, is about spending my time in remembering all who are part of my life and thanking God for each one.

OAKLAND CHRISTIAN

This holiday season we invite you to take a trip with us at the Oakland Christian Church, Pendleton County, 149 Oakland Church Road, Falmouth, Ky., and experience the true Spirit of Christmas. Your trip will take you on an outdoor adventure to first century Bethlehem on the night Jesus was born.

As you enter the city, allow the sights, sounds and smells to carry you to a period of time that changed the world. Journey through the heart of the city to the marketplace that is bustling with activity at authentic shops; enjoy samples from the baker's shop, marvel at the potter's crafts and listen for the rumor of a king's birth from excited townspeople. Beware of the Roman soldiers though. They are just looking for an excuse to arrest someone.

After you make your way down the market, make a stop at the Inn, and the Synagogue, and then venture on to a moonlit field where you find shepherds watching their sheep and hear angels singing. Continue your journey to the Nativity where a very special baby was born in the stable. Meet Mary and Joseph and hear their joy expressed in song. See royally robed Magi and hear how they journeyed from far away in search of this heavenly King. Finally, your journey will end at the cross where you'll meet Nicodemus and an angel as they proclaim the "reason for the season."

"Walk Through Bethlehem 2014" is Oakland's holiday gift to the community. We invite you to bring the children to Oakland where they can discover the real side of Christmas.

Prior to your tour, you will meet in the sanctuary and listen to special guest singers. (Remember to dress warmly.) This special event will be held on Dec. 6 and 7 with tours being held 5:30-8:30 p.m. each evening.

For more information contact the church at 859-654-6174 or 859-797-3719. Be sure to check us out on Facebook, also.

ODDVILLE CHRISTIAN

Solid Ground singers will perform Nov. 23 at 2 p.m. at Oddville Christian Church.

Lots of singing. Everyone welcome. A love offering will be taken.

Farmers Deposit Bank welcomes three new members

By JOSH SHEPHERD, NEWS WRITER

Farmers Deposit Bank, serving Harrison, Nicholas and Bourbon counties welcomed three new members to its Harrison County staff of banking and financial professionals last week.

Amelia Arnold is the new branch manager and one of the loan officers with the south-side branch of Farmers Deposit Bank on U.S. 27 South.

Arnold launched her banking career right after graduating from Harrison County High School in 1997.

After taking career-readiness classes under her teacher Bubba Jenkins, Arnold was prepared to make the leap right into the banking field. She has held positions in several banks serving the Cynthiana area over the course of the next decade.

In addition to her duties at the bank, Arnold is also busy raising her three children with her husband, Matthew, and also earning her degree in general business from Morehead State University's on-line curriculum.

"I'm very excited about the opportunity to be a part of Farmers Deposit Bank and serve its Harrison County customers," she said.

Ben New is the new compliance officer for Farmers Deposit Bank. His office is located on the second floor of the Southside branch.

New has been a lifelong resident of Georgetown, but he has connections with individuals and banks throughout the region.

Before accepting a full time post with Farmers Deposit, New worked as a private consultant. Several banks in central and eastern Kentucky were his clients.

He graduated from Georgetown College in 1981 and earned his master's degree in business administration with a concentration on finance from Xavier University.

During his years as a paid consultant, he has performed audits, reviewed compliance issues and helped open new banks in the area.

He has also seen many things change in the banking industry following the economic recession in 2008. Pages of well-intentioned federal and state regulations have been passed to increase oversight of the activities of the larger national banks in the wake of the recession, New said. But these same regulations have created challenges for smaller community banks, he said.

"Community banks play a critical role in local financial services. What I enjoy about Farmers Deposit Bank is that our customers are names to us, not figures on a ledger sheet," New said.

Michael Domin, the new Credit Administrator for Farmers Deposit, agrees with his co-worker.

MICHAEL DOMIN

Domin is relocating to Cynthiana from Elizabethtown because he enjoys the working climate of a community bank. And he is impressed with the Harrison County community.

"A small bank, like a small business, requires its personnel to wear many hats and have a wide range of responsibilities," Domin said.

Farmers Deposit, by virtue of its size, has a stake in the development of the communities they serve, Domin said.

In his role, he will be working with the bank's loan officers to make sure that a small business in Cynthiana or Harrison County has the resources to grow and prosper in the long term.

"As our community grows, we benefit. That's an important function of a community bank," Domin said.

Domin is originally from the small town of Delphos, Ohio, which is located about the midway point between Dayton and Toledo.

He has been in banking for 15 years, beginning with National City Bank. He was with First Federal Savings in Elizabethtown when he accepted the offer to move to Cynthiana.

"Farmers Deposit is a nice fit for me," he commented. "I like the small community focus. It's more in keeping with how I grew up."

Domin is still just settling into the community, but he already appreciates the warm reception he's received.

"This is an area that is poised for a lot of future growth. I'm looking forward to being a part of that future," he said.

McKinley joins Lexington law firm

Mikel D. McKinley Jr. has joined the law firm of Johnson and Crump at 151 East Third Street, Lexington.

McKinley, 33, graduated in May 2014 from the University of Kentucky College of Law.

He is a 1999 graduate of Harrison County High School. He also graduated from UK in 2004 and followed that with a 2006 graduation holding an MBA from Eastern Kentucky University.

He and his wife Mary have an 18-month-old daughter, Abby. They own a cattle farm on KY 36 West.

He is the son of Mikel and Debbie McKinley.

McKinley can be reached at 859-233-03013.

He will be practicing in the areas of elder law, asset protection, Medicaid, estate planning, wills and trusts, business law, personal injury and criminal defense.

Elder law attorneys focus on the legal needs of the elderly and work with a variety of legal tools and techniques to meet the goals and objectives of the older client.

MIKEL MCKINLEY JR.

The elder law practitioner handles estate planning issues and counsels clients about planning for incapacity with alternative decision-making documents.

The attorney will also assist the client in planning for possible long-term care needs, including nursing home care.

Locating the appropriate type of care, coordinating private and public resources to finance the cost of care and working to ensure the client's right to quality care are all part of the elder law practice.

Preservation of the assets that the elderly have worked their entire life to accumulate is one of our main goals.

Once upon a time, the federal estate tax was the main threat to estates. Now it's the increasing cost of long-term care.

We offer seniors an alternative to the "Medicaid spend down" that leaves the senior impoverished before Medicaid will ever take over payment of their skilled care facility.
